

Wall Newspaper

Kurobuchi Megane (Black-framed Glasses)

Mana-chan

Please refrain from spending a night or staying for days at a time in your car at a roadside station.

Roadside stations play a key role as facilities where road users including tourists can freely take a rest, use clean restrooms and obtain local information.

Long-term parking including spending a night in your car may lead to socially embarrassing behavior, preventing other visitors from parking their cars.

Thank you for your cooperation so that all visitors will feel comfortable using the roadside stations.

Bad manners are distressful to everyone using the facilities.

Long-term parking is not allowed here.

Pitching a tent is not allowed here.

Sleeping outdoors is not allowed here.

Cooking is not allowed here.

Littering is not allowed here.

Feeding wildlife is not allowed here.

Mana-chan was embarrassed to find vehicles that remained parked for days at roadside stations. vol.1

Don't bother others!
Mana-chan will definitely give you a telling-off!

Basic rule – Take your garbage home with you!!

Roadside stations are not dumping sites. Taking your own garbage home is the basic rule.

From Mana: One piece of advice
Do you know what "eco-dumping" is?

People in the Okhotsk region strive to completely remove all garbage from tourist destinations so that the environment and natural landscapes can remain clean and beautiful. Travelers are recommended to dispose of their own waste in a mannered way and in compliance with the basic rules. Some roadside stations participate in the "Eco-dumping Movement," whereby garbage produced during trips can be treated based on the same rates and rules applying to garbage separation set by the local communities. We appreciate your cooperation to keep landscapes beautiful and facilities neat and tidy, which will ensure that you and other users all feel comfortable and happy.

Gleaming

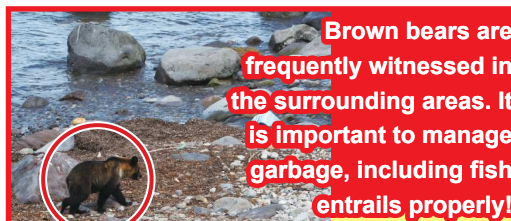

For more information, please ask staff members at roadside stations.

Stop now, baby, stop dumping!

Request from Mana
Please apply good manners when using roadside stations.

Brown bears are frequently witnessed in the surrounding areas. It is important to manage garbage, including fish entrails properly!

Reportedly, on August 31, 2018, a brown bear robbed an angler of his fish at the mouth of the Funbe River.

- Don't throw away garbage including fish entrails, which is most likely to attract brown bears to repeatedly come to the area in search of something to eat.

Immediately notify us about brown bear sightings or related information.

Shiretoko Foundation (public interest incorporated foundation)

0152-24-2775

Editorial postscript

These days, roadside stations are gaining significant popularity with the public. I realize how just about everyone loves roadside stations (that includes me for sure ... LOL), especially when I see all the feature articles about roadside stations in magazines and on TV programs.

However, despite their popularity, bad manners by some users pose a challenge to be addressed, and this has led to publication of the wall newspaper, "Kurobuchi Megane." We cordially hope these symbolic black-framed glasses will play an effective role in promoting users' good manners to maintain the access-friendliness and convenience of roadside stations.

I want to gather road information before and during my trip. Mana-chan-go

Road information is available from the Hokkaido Regional Development Bureau

- Static images of about 100 national routes are renewed every 15 minutes.
- Real-time information on traffic regulations on national and prefectural roads is provided.

Hokkaido Area Road Information

Hokkaido Area Road Information Search Click here. Click here.
[PC] <http://info-road.hdb.hkd.mlit.go.jp>
[Cell-phone] <http://info-road.hdb.hkd.mlit.go.jp/mv/>

Japan Road Traffic Information Center

Inquiries: 050-3369-6666
Press #8011 when you call from a cell-phone.

Issued by

Liaison Conference on the Shari-Utoro Section of National Highway 334
Shari Town / Shiretoko Shari-cho Tourist Association
Shiretoko Foundation / Utoro Community Association / Shari Police Station
Hokkaido / Ministry of the Environment / Ministry of Land, Infrastructure, Transport and Tourism
Inquiries: 0152-44-6478
Abashiri Development and Construction Department, Hokkaido Regional Development Bureau, Ministry of Land, Infrastructure, Transport and Tourism